Memorable Quotations from William Jennings Bryan Jim Dell

William Jennings Bryan (1860-1925) was an American political leader and orator. He was a member (1891-95) of the U.S. House of Representatives. At the 1896 Democratic national convention he made his celebrated "Cross of Gold" speech in defense of free silver. He was nominated for president but lost to William McKinley that year and in 1900; in 1908 he lost to W.H. Taft. In 1912 he helped to elect Woodrow Wilson, who appointed him secretary of state (1913-15). An activist of religious fundamentalism, he appeared for the prosecution in the 1925 Scopes trial. Several of the reforms he advocated were later adopted, including the income tax and woman suffrage.

The profound, inspiring and famous quotations included in this book were taken from the original sources, which include Bryan's books, court cases, speeches, orations and lectures.
