The challenge of teaching classical literature has been made easy! Whether you're a teacher in a classroom, home school mom, or leading a small group, these studies shake off the dust and make these novels relevant to the 21st Century reader. More importantly they teacher the reader the relevance of scripture in all areas of life. No more namby-pamby Christians that get blown out of the water in their first college class. We endeavor to help equip people to face the challenges of life head on with the sword of the spirit (Word of God) firmly in their hands.

Classical Literature Study Guides' products are easy to use. There is a reader's section of questions for each chapter. A brief teaching on developing a well constructed essay using quotes from the novel as well as from Scripture is included.

The Teacher's section includes a guide to grading as well as a set of sample answers to the questions. In Literature, there are often more than one correct answer. Our answers are provided to encourage discussion and thought.

All that is needed to make this a complete course is the novel, a Bible with a concordance, and a method of writing the essays.
