Character Prayer Devotional: Character Building Prayers from God's Word (Praying God's Word Book 2) Tom Bishop, Marcia Bishop

Godly character will set your children apart from the rest of the world. You cannot buy character and you certainly cannot trust the school or business world to teach it to your children. This book will help you teach them about godly character. At the same time, as you pray your way through this book with your children, their heavenly Father will be working to powerfully build character qualities into their lives.

Imagine your children having biblical reasons why they should be truthful, punctual, generous and obedient. Godly character can steady them during these many temptations they will face in life.

There are twenty-four character qualities covered in the book. At seven days per character quality, this book will give your children six months of character development. Each day there will be a verse depicting the character quality. The verse is followed by some thoughts about the verse and the quality. Then there is a suggested prayer to help your children ask Father God to build this character quality into their life. On the seventh day there is a summary of the week and another prayer.

The thoughts and prayers in this book make good nighttime prayers. It is very helpful to put God's word into our minds before we go to sleep. It causes us to think and meditate on it all night. These prayers can also be used at mealtimes and as family devotions.
